OTTAWA CORRESPONDENCE.

hope that the Opposition had in their policy of obstruction persistently last session, a wise and constructive measure, has to be abandoned in the proceedings of the past session, as already taken to the purpose: to the construction of the railway in opposition, if possible, and the measures are justifiable.

The purpose of the opposition is to prevent the Government's proposals in record and definite manner.

may be discussed again indefinitely. A debate on the third reading would then be in order before the bill could go to the Senate. A repetition of similar tactics in the Senate could easily hold over its passage to the first of August. And if this is done there is not enough of the open season remaining to permit of preparations being made and active work of any service account accomplished. The opposition will then have achieved their object of postponing active operations for two years; always with the hope that financial depression will take the enterprise before it can be got going.

This is not what they are doing, but this is what they are doing. As said in the beginning, the right of obstruction is a sacred Parliamentary privilege, which when it is abused, can become a dangerous weapon against the public interest. The only way the public can protect themselves is to deal with those who improperly use the proper weapon, at the polls. This country needs business men, not more obstructionists, as its counsellors and legislators.

DOWN THE RIVER BY SCOW

(Written for the Bulletin by an experienced Riverman).

It may not be out of place and date to mention a few facts about the usual mode of transportation between Edmonton and points further down stream—Victoria, Pitt, and Lloydminster, etc.—for the information of the many intending settlers for points as mentioned now coming in daily: we will take a trip down with them in imagination.

The first thing, then, is to get our scow, and after making inquiries we find we can have one either from Frazer & Co., Edmonton, or John Walter, Strathcona. This scow is 35 feet long by 15 feet wide, sides 36 to 40 inches high, made throughout of one and a half inch plank, with the timbers 3 by 6 inches. It has one large steering oar of twenty-five feet at least, and four others of eighteen to twenty feet. As this scow is to be knocked to pieces at the end of the voyage and the lumber used for house building, we will add a hundred feet to the scow, which is not nailed on. Roughly speaking this scow will be twelve and a half tons. That is to say, with this cargo the scow is said to be manageable in dry weather, and for good pilotage, and the river shallows, waters, etc. of the river's descent should be under the hands of a novice or an incompetent. We must bear in mind that here at Frazer and Walter's landing places the water is deep and we could load our scow to its full and for a considerable distance down be safe. The shallows, rapids and sand bars commence opposite Vermilion creek. There are also one or more shallows before passing Fort Saskatchewan. It is the duty of the pilot to see that the safety of the passengers and their goods is in no wise endangered, more especially this is to be noted when the transportation is per contract. Since, then, the Saskatchewan is at the present time at low water, we will load our scow with eight and a half tons and we will take further precautions by taking a skiff in tow. An living should be rigged up and a cook stove set up, even two stoves, if there are not too many passengers. Leaving Edmonton about 9 o'clock a.m., we should at least go down to Fort Saskatchewan, and as it is the first night out, we will pass something earlier than we will hereafter. If we camp ashore we must not take any unnecessary amount of luggage ashore, as an early start in the morning is imperative. As much cooking as possible should be done on land when we camp, as once on board, cooking is somewhat under difficulties at the best of times on scowboard. In a day or two we will get down to the routine and we should be down to Victoria our third day early, at St. Paul our fifth, and at Lloydminster or Pitt on the seventh or eighth day.

Scows have gone down from here and have been only 56 hours on the river to Pitt, drifting by night and day.

MINISTER SHOT

NEAR ELLERSLIE YESTERDAY

DAY

Sad Accident by Which Rev. Gustav Poensgen Lost His Life

The news reached town yesterday afternoon of a sad shooting accident near Ellerslie, about ten miles south of Strathcona, by which Rev. G. Poensgen, minister of the Lutheran church at Strathcona lost his life.

It appears that the deceased went to Ellerslie yesterday to visit a friend, Rev. J. Hennem, whose birthday it was, the two intending to go to Leduc to attend a festival there tomorrow at the dedication of the new Lutheran church. He took a few cartridges along, and during the afternoon a shotgun was borrowed and the two gentlemen went out to try a few shots.

Hennem fired first at some object and was in the act of reloading when, as he attempted to close the gun, the cartridge exploded, knocking him down.

When he rose he was astonished to see his friend holding his side and exclaiming "I'm shot."

Burton had thought Poensgen was to his right and considers that he must have crossed over behind him to the left.

The wounded man fell to the ground, and finding it impossible to do anything for him there, Hennem ran home for a horse and rig with which the unfortunate man was brought to town with all speed. His wound was mortal, however, and though every effort was made to sustain him, he expired before reaching Strathcona.

The deceased minister was widely known and deeply respected throughout the German speaking settlements of the district. For the past year and a half he has been in charge of the Lutheran church in Strathcona, also preaching to the Edmonton members of that denomination in Gariepy hall each Sunday afternoon.

Previous to this time he had spent about two years in charge of a congregation in New York state. Before that time he had been in charge of the church at Stony Plain west of town, where he is widely known.

He was a single male of about 29 years of age. His mother, who visited him in Strathcona last summer, is at present in New York state and a message was sent conveying the news to her. It is not known yet whether she will come to attend the funeral or not. Should she do so it will be postponed until her arrival. Otherwise it will take place from the church of which deceased was pastor in Strathcona on Monday afternoon.

Mr. Poensgen had been instrumental in securing the erection of a church for the congregation here, new building stands on Kinistino avenue, near Fifth street, and was to be dedicated early in June. This will probably be postponed until a later date.

Off to Peace River

Free Press: A citizen of this city who was in the Peace River valley last year, renewing acquaintance with ground well known to him, is of the opinion that there is much talk about the Peace and Mackenzie river countries to the Yukon. Once this railway is completed there will be found not less than 100,000 tons of coal now taken from the Yukon to the American side, would not leave Canada, but would help in building up towns along the new line. A vast amount of lumber would be required in these districts, and it would not be long until Victoria and Vancouver enjoyed a mercantile trade with the new country.

It appears that the deceased went to Lynn Canal and they obtained as much more of our country as they could get. Let them keep at it now, however, but in future Canadian supplies for Canada. Then our population will increase and our industries expand.

There is no news concerning the railway to which I refer. It has for many years started up in an imaginary way and has not yet got as far as Seymour Narrows.

"How far did you go last year?"

"Right through to British Columbia, and saw what I knew was there once more and rig with which the unfortunate man was brought to town with all speed. His wound was mortal, however, and though every effort was made to sustain him, he expired before reaching Strathcona.

HORSE HILLS

(Bulletin Correspondent)

Second week in May is now fully sprung. A considerable amount has already been down and notwithstanding the late arrival of spring, everything is progressing favorably.

Indians and La Gripe have paid a rather uneventful visit to many of our people this spring, incapacitating many and causing them to neglect many of their regular operations.

The Fort road from the half-way house to town is now perfectly dry. Several bad mud holes still exist on the other half of the trail.

Mr. Brinkman of the Vernon Valley, has leased the J. Lewis farm for the coming season and is at present busily engaged tilling the soil.

Mr. Jas. J. Croan of the Half-way House, has come from San Francisco last week having spent the winter in different parts of the south.

Our school is once again without a teacher. Mr. E. Wade has accepted a position in the north country, where he wants to compete a course for local certificate. He will then resume the position.

The improved French couch stallion, Vernon, 268, owned by the Horse Breeders' Association of Edmonton, stands at the Half-way House every Tuesday. Many of the farmers here are endeavoring to buy him and add him to their herds to improve their driving stock.

The poles for the new Athabasca Landing and Ft. Saskatchewan telephone lines are in the ground, over which will be laid the Bell telephone. The supplies, wire, pins, etc., are distributed every few miles apart and all is ready for construction which will begin shortly. The telephone line along this road will be quite a novelty.

At a meeting held recently by our councillors the following were elected for the Home Protection League, Improvement District No. 27:—Mr. Wm. Clark for the south side; Mr. R. Moffat for the north side, and Mr. D. Shiflet for the west side. With this array of officers on board, some extensive improvements will undoubtedly be made on the roads in this district during the coming season.

The Wise Mother

The day's duties over she rests in her chair. And thinks of the doses that doctors prepare. To her children when sick no doctor she'll bring; She has proved beyond doubt "Abbey's Salt" is the thing.

ABBEY'S SALT is especially suited to children. It is made from fruit juices—contains no calomel, or other powerful drugs—and is pleasant to take. It is a tonic laxative—NOT a purge or violent cathartic. It may be taken every morning by children, as well as grown folk, without fear of ill-effects.

It corrects all the bowel troubles of childhood—prevents cramps—keeps the little ones fresh, rosy and healthy.
